Combining with transcription software enables efficient explanations for the elderly and hearing-impaired. With translation features, it also facilitates smooth communication with international individuals. When not used for transcription, it serves as an information terminal or interior decoration, supporting 4,096 colors.

Viewing the same information from all angles allows for face-to-face document viewing without a projector. It can also be used for reading picture books to children.

Compact 12-inch and bigger-sized 21-inch are available!
